Simplified Version
with Supporting Verses from the Bible and Q’uran

NINERELA+ 2016
INTRODUCTION

The signing of Nigeria’s HIV and AIDS Anti-Discrimination Act 2014 was considered a giant stride in the National HIV response, and yet there have been reactions that the Act has not been communicated appropriately putting into consideration the peculiarities of the subsets of Nigerian population. Religious understanding of situations and interpretations are important in the lives of Nigerians and defines their behavioural dispositions. With that in mind, The Association of Religious leaders Living with or Personally Affected by HIV/AIDS (NINERELA+) with the support of Christian Aid International brought together religious scholars (Christians and Muslims) to provide the faith-based interpretations of the anti-discrimination Act 2014, with relevant verses from the holy books.

As contained in the original version, this simplified form focuses on four critical components of the Act namely:

a) Rights of Individuals
b) Their Responsibilities
